

Case study: Building sustainable and biodiversity conscious community in Shikoku Japan
Focusing on promoting local biodiversity to create sustainable communities in Shikoku

Education and biodiversity

Implementation of paddy field observation society <http://noutoikimono.com/>

Holding a children's day out at the paddy field.

Learning the importance of rice paddies which provide sanctuary to local species through the experience and observation on the day.

Japan Civil Network for United Nations Decade on Biodiversity
Shikoku Region Network

This leaflet was funded by Japan Fund for Global Environment.